

February 6, 2026

Burnout in Women Physicians: Reclaiming Renewal, Well- Being, and Resilience

Informational Author Meeting

AGENDA

01 Welcome and Introduction

02 Vision for the Second Edition

03 Book Structure
and Framework

04 Roles and Expectations

05 Dates and Milestones

06 Writing Guidance
and Style

07 Q&A and Open
Discussion

08 Next Steps and
Closing Remarks

01

Elizabeth Blackwell, MD
1849

Rebecca Lee Crumpler, MD,
1864

Welcome and Introductions

Welcome and Introductions

Dr. Cynthia Stonnington

Editor-in-Chief

Dr. Suneela Vegunta

Editor-in-Chief

Welcome and Introductions

Dr. Denise Millstine

Major Contributor

Isabella Varea

Student Editor

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 1

Dr. Colin West, originally from Seattle, is Professor of Medicine, Medical Education, and Biostatistics at Mayo Clinic. He received his M.D. and Ph.D. from University of Iowa. He directs the Mayo Clinic Program on Physician Well-Being and was named Mayo's first Medical Director of Employee Well-Being in 2022. His research focuses on medical education and clinician well-being and has been widely published in prominent journals including Lancet, JAMA, and Annals of Internal Medicine.

Chapter 2

Julie Crichton, MD is a board-certified anesthesiologist who completed medical school in Nebraska and residency training at the University of Iowa, bringing more than 25 years of clinical experience in Scottsdale, Arizona. She is the co-founder and co-medical director of HonorHealth's Women Physicians Leadership Council, a Distinguished Fellow of the American Society of Anesthesiologists, and an active mentor and wellness champion dedicated to advancing gender equity and supporting women physicians.

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 3

Dr. Shweta Kapoor is the Owner and Founder of Kalm Psychiatry LLC, where she is dedicated to providing compassionate, patient-centered psychiatric care. Through her work, she focuses on supporting individuals' mental health and overall well-being in a thoughtful and holistic manner. As a leader in her practice, Dr. Kapoor is committed to creating a safe, supportive environment that empowers patients on their journey toward healing and resilience.

Chapter 4

Dr. Carolyn Moats is a family physician who practiced and trained with Mayo Clinic in Arizona for 20 years before retiring in 2025. In addition to her clinical practice, she ran Clinical Reviews for eight years, directed Grand Rounds and Mortality and Morbidity conference and served on the Personnel Committee. She continues to teach in the Mayo medical school and serve as president of a women's nonprofit organization, making connections with women around the world.

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 5

Dr. Lopa Misra is an Associate Professor of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine at Mayo Clinic in Phoenix, Arizona and Associate Dean of Admissions for Mayo Clinic Alix School of Medicine. She has held several leadership roles at Mayo Clinic including most recent past chair of the multi-specialty division for the department of anesthesiology and perioperative medicine. She is dedicated to undergraduate medical education, and her research interests lie in topics of health equity, gender disparity, and humanities in medicine. She is a certified life and leadership coach.

Chapter 6

Dr. Denise Millstine is an Assistant Professor of Medicine at Mayo Clinic in Arizona, focusing on women's health, integrative medicine, and clinician well-being. She directs the Office of Joy & Well-being, leads the Integrative Medicine section, and co-directs the Student Community Clinic Course. Dr. Millstine contributes to the Mayo Clinic Health Letter, directs the Women's Health Channel for Mayo Clinic Press, and hosts the Mayo Clinic Read.Talk.Grow. podcast.

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 7

Dr. Rebecca N. Thompson is a family medicine and public health physician who specializes in women's and children's health and seeks opportunities to use written and spoken words to make complex medical topics more accessible and more engaging for a wide range of audiences. She is the author of Held Together: A Shared Memoir of Motherhood, Medicine, and Imperfect Love (HarperCollins 2025) and trained at Harvard, Stanford, and Oregon Health and Science University.

Chapter 8

Dr. Rachel Schwartz is research faculty at the University of California San Francisco Department of Anesthesia and Perioperative Care and a Health Services Researcher whose work focuses on improving clinician well-being and patient safety. She was the lead editor of Emotion in the Clinical Encounter (McGraw Hill, 2021), a medical education textbook that provides clinicians with tools for navigating psychosocial aspects of the medical encounter.

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 9

Dr. Anni Shandera-Ochsner is an Assistant Professor of Psychology at Mayo Clinic College of Medicine, a Board-Certified Clinical Neuropsychologist at Mayo Clinic Health System in La Crosse, Wisconsin, and Medical Director for Joy at Mayo Clinic. She cares for patients with neurodegenerative conditions and leads enterprise-wide efforts to promote staff well-being, having previously served as Chief Wellness Officer for the Mayo Clinic Health System in southwest Wisconsin.

Chapter 10

Dr. Elena Frank is Director of the Intern Health Study and an Assistant Research Scientist at the Michigan Neuroscience Institute, University of Michigan. Her research examines gender disparities in well-being and retention among medical trainees and early career physicians. Dr. Frank's work has been published in leading journals including NEJM, JAMA, and BMJ, and featured in outlets such as The New York Times and Harvard Business Review.

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 11

Dr. Enid Rivera-Chiauzzi is an Assistant Professor and Consultant in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Mayo Clinic Rochester and Medical Director of the Family Birth Center at Methodist Hospital. Her work centers on clinician well-being, peer support, and helping healthcare professionals recover and thrive after stressful clinical events through programs like Healing the Emotional Lives of Peers (HELP). She is also a leader in diversity and perinatal quality initiatives, with research focused on healthcare worker experiences, workplace culture.

Chapter 12

Dr. Molly Kraus is an associate professor of anesthesiology, Medical Director of Surgical Services, and Vice Chair for the Department of Anesthesiology and Perioperative Medicine at Mayo Clinic in Phoenix, AZ, and the vice chair of the ASA Committee on Women Anesthesiologists. She is passionate about improving the experiences of women in medicine and supporting physician moms. She helped launch a program for women medical students called IGNITE Med, where she serves on the Board of Directors and as Vice Chair. She is married and has 4 sons and currently spends her free time keeping up with them!

Sub-Editor Introductions

Chapter 13

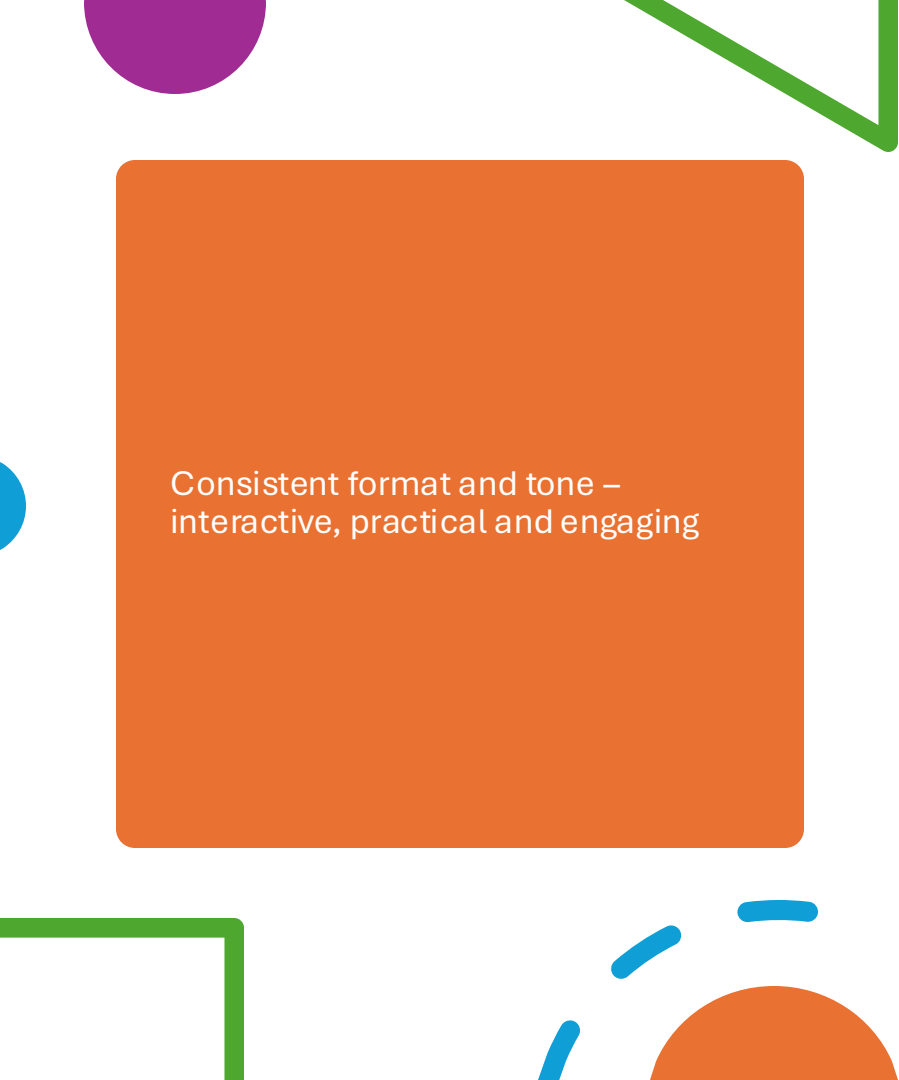

Hilary McClafferty, MD, FAAP is Board certified in pediatrics, pediatric emergency medicine, and integrative medicine. She writes and speaks nationally and internationally on pediatric integrative medicine, mind-body medicine, and physician wellbeing. She is lead author of the American Academy of Pediatrics Clinical Policy on Physician Wellness and certified physician coach and Founder and CEO of the Academy of Pediatric Integrative Medicine (APIM), an educational academy for clinicians where she serves as Director of the nationally recognized APIM Fellowship in Integrative Medicine. Dr. McClafferty has authored three books: Integrative Pediatrics: Art, Science, and Clinical Application, and Mind-Body Medicine in Clinical Practice and (co-author) The Anti-Inflammatory Family Cookbook and is host of the podcast Physician Thriving.

02

Vision for the Second Edition

Vision

- Empowerment over Description: Move beyond simply describing burnout toward actionable strategies for change.
- Practical & Engaging: Provide tools, reflection prompts, exercises, and case-based decision points for immediate application.
- Evidence + Narrative Integration: Combine research, lived experiences, and practical guidance.
- Multi-Level Focus: Address individual, leadership/team, and institutional strategies.
- Inclusive & Trauma-Informed: Use non-stigmatizing language and acknowledge structural contributors to burnout.
- Cohesive & Readable: Eliminate redundancy, enhance readability, and maintain a consistent tone across chapters.
- Audience: Women physicians across all career stages, leaders, educators, and institutions committed to well-being.
- Interactive Book Structure: Chapters include vignettes, “Why This Matters,” practical strategies, reflections, and take-home points.

Consistent format and tone –
interactive, practical and engaging

- Opening Vignette
- Why This Matters
- Evidence Snapshot
 - Key studies, frameworks, or data—focused and selective rather than exhaustive
- Practical Strategies
- Reflection & Application
 - 3–5 reflection questions, may also be relevant to the vignette when possible
 - A short “Try This Tomorrow” exercise
- Key Take-Home Points.
- References

03

Book Structure and Chapter Framework

Section I: Why Burnout in Women Physicians Matters

Chapter 1. Naming the Problem

1. What is burnout? – C. West*
2. How to recognize it (quiz + stages explained) – T. Pankow
3. Impact on patient outcomes and healthcare systems – L. Breeher
4. Personal stories to humanize the issue – S. Yoosuf

Chapter 2. Influence of Women on the System

1. Women as half the workforce – J. Crichton*
2. Patient outcomes and engagement – K. Heybati, A. Jerath, C. Wallis (update from chapter 2 of 1st ed)
3. Women as leaders – S. Kiely

Chapter 3. Influence of the System on Women

1. Elevated morbidity, mortality, and suicide – P. Frazier, S. Kapoor (update from chapter 3 of 1st ed)
2. Career stage pressures and attrition – S. Kapoor* (overlap with chapters 15 and 16 of 1st ed—please coordinate with D. Ferguson and I. Varea to reduce redundancies)

Chapter 4. The System We Inherited

C. Moats*

1. Historical context: systems built for men – R. Barron, A. Jarman
2. Sex and gender differences in medicine and expectations – J. Wolfe, J. Bolton (update from Chapter 1, 1st edition)
3. Persistent pay gap and undervalued work – J. Litvack, R. Lindsay (update from Chapter 11, 1st edition)
4. Male-dominated specialties and lack of representation – D. Jaroszewski, M. Ahmed (update from Chapter 10, 1st edition)
5. Unintentional bias and gender stereotypes – J. VanderPluym (update from Chapter 5, 1st edition)
6. The rate of professional promotion – N. Raukar, H. Mishkin, L. Viltz, R. Bright (update from chapter 4, 1st edition)

Section II: How is it Still Happening?

Chapter 5. The Weight of Expectations

1. “Wonder(ful) Women” complex – K. Vargas
2. Domestic responsibilities, parenting, and work-life conflict – N. Raukar, H. Mishkin, L. Viltz, R. Bright, N. Perrotte (update from chapters 4 and 7, 1st edition)
3. Experiences of single, unpartnered, or child-free physicians – K. Paynter (update from chapter 9, 1st edition)
4. Perfectionism, guilt, and overcommitment – C. Stucky (update from part of chapter 18, 1st edition)
5. Boundaries in a digital world – N. Perrotte

Chapter 6. The Culture of Silence

D. Millstine*

1. Is there psychological safety? – L. Howell
2. Gaslighting and other communication styles – C. Menesis, K. Schuldt
3. Institutional response/inaction – P. Bigaouette
4. Sexual harassment – A. Austin, K. Mitry, C. Grant (update from chapter 6, 1st edition)
5. Gender-based discrimination – A. Austin, A. Trautman, J. Avila (overlap with chapters 5 and 6, first edition)
6. Intersectionality – E. Fonseca
7. Isolation and loneliness – J. Blanchard (update from chapter 8, 1st edition)
8. Mental health challenges – P. Frazier (update from chapter 12, 1st edition)
9. Substance use – S. Greenfield, A. Sedgewick, H. Connery (update from chapter 13, 1st edition)

Section II: How is it Still Happening?

Chapter 7. Life Stages and Transitions

1. Medical school → residency → fellowship transitions – D. Ferguson, I. Varea (partial update from chapters 15–17, 1st edition, please coordinate with S. Kapoor and E. Frank to reduce redundancies)
2. Reproductive planning challenges and infertility – R. Thompson* (update from part of chapter 14, 1st edition—please coordinate with M. Kraus to reduce redundancy)
3. Midlife shifts: menopause, caregiving, and “sandwich generation” – S. Vegunta (update from chapter 16, 1st edition)
4. Late-career issues and attrition – C. Herring (update from chapter 17, 1st edition)

Chapter 8. The Pandemic and Its Aftermath

R. Schwartz*

1. Disrupted professional and social connections – C. Bowey
2. Intensified burnout and inequities – E. Wessol
3. Lessons learned about crisis, resilience, and adaptation – A. Donovan

Chapter 9. Leading for Change

Anni Shandera-Ochsner*

1. Wellness-centered leadership – T. Bertsch
2. Mentorship and sponsorship that work – J. Blanchard (update from chapter 8, 1st edition)
3. Recognizing women pioneers and role models – D. Gerberi, L. Marks
4. Giving, Receiving, and Eliciting Feedback – J. Bolton
5. Redefining what we measure, value, and reward – K. Schuldt

Chapter 10. Reimagining Work in Medicine

1. Flexible scheduling and creative work models – C. Guille, E. Frank*
2. Career pauses and FTE reductions without penalty – J. Mills
3. Coming back to work: building a functional on-ramp – S. Umar
4. Making Telemedicine work – I. Perlmutter
5. Adequate resources, redistribution, and innovation (including AI) – ML. Ho
6. What exit narratives can teach us about retention – J. Mills

Section III: What Can We Do About It?

Section III: What Can We Do About It?

Chapter 11. Building Community and Connection

1. Coaching – S. Kiely, J. Crichton
2. Peer support and supportive networks – Y. Rivera-Chiauzzi*
3. Creating psychological safety and brave spaces – C. Menesis, E. Adame
4. Tools for advocacy: social media and beyond – P. Bigaouette
5. Integrating humanities, including narrative medicine – J. Hartmark-Hill
6. Interventions that take into account impact of work on personal relationships – S. Flaherty

Chapter 12. Pathways to Renewal

1. Tailored solutions by career stage (students → late-career) – D. Ferguson, I. Varea (update from chapters 15–17, 1st edition)
2. Parent-friendly and reproductive planning supports – M. Kraus (update from part of chapter 14, 1st edition, please coordinate with R. Thompson to reduce redundancy)
3. Normalizing self-care as a discipline – J. Patel
4. Practical strategies for joy, resilience, and mindfulness principles – S. Haerter
5. From stigma to strength: Making Mental Health a Priority – P. Frazier (update from Chapter 12, 1st edition)
6. From stigma to strength: Recovery from Alcohol and Substance Use Disorder – S. Greenfield, A. Sedgewick, H. Connery (update from chapter 13, 1st edition)

Chapter 13. Toward a Healthier Future

1. Global perspectives on women's well-being in medicine – M. Gisselbaek
2. Inclusive equity frameworks – L. Legree
3. Building sustainable systems for thriving physicians – B. Oladimeji (update from chapter 19, 1st edition)
4. Learning to innovate for the future state – H. McClafferty*

04

Sub-Editor Roles and Expectations

Sub Editor responsibilities

- The Sub-Editor plays a critical role in ensuring scholarly rigor, coherence, and alignment with the vision of the second edition. Responsibilities include:
 - Content & Scholarly Oversight
 - Oversee assigned chapter(s) or section(s) to ensure alignment with the book's updated vision, scope, and mission
 - Ensure content is evidence-based, current, and relevant to contemporary challenges facing women physicians.
 - Identify gaps, redundancies, or inconsistencies across sub-chapters and coordinate refinements with authors.
-

Sub Editor responsibilities

- Editorial Review & Quality Control

- Ensure consistent use of terminology, inclusive language, and conceptual frameworks related to burnout, well-being, and gender-informed medicine.

- Verify appropriate citation of key literature and adherence to publisher formatting guidelines.

Sub Editor responsibilities

- Author Coordination & Mentorship
- Serve as the primary editorial point of contact for assigned authors.
- Provide constructive, timely feedback and support authors through revisions.
- Facilitate collaboration among chapter authors to reduce duplication and enhance thematic integration.

Sub Editor responsibilities

- Integration & Innovation
 - Assist in incorporating interactive elements (e.g., reflection prompts, case vignettes, self-assessment tools) consistent with the second edition's emphasis on engagement and practical application
 - Ensure chapters move beyond problem description to include actionable strategies at the individual, institutional, and systems levels

Sub Editor responsibilities

- Timeline & Process Management
 - Support adherence to editorial timelines, including outlines, draft submissions, revisions, and final approvals.
 - Communicate progress and challenges to the Lead Editors to ensure smooth workflow.
- Final Readiness
 - Participate in final content review to confirm cohesion across sections.
 - Assist with addressing reviewer or publisher feedback related to assigned chapters.

05

Key Dates and Milestones

Important deadlines and timeline

- Authors are requested to submit a brief chapter outline by March 31, 2026, to allow for editorial alignment and constructive feedback prior to manuscript development.
 - Please include your sub editor and chief editors
 - We will provide prompt feedback to you
 - To minimize redundancy, editors may recommend consolidation or reframing of content.
 - Let us work collaboratively while maintaining a consistent voice and structure across the book
-

Important deadlines and timeline

- An in-person collaborative meeting (with a virtual attendance option) is scheduled for May 8, 2026, from 12:30–4:30 PM MST, to be held at the IERB Building, Mayo Clinic, Phoenix.
 - This working session will provide an opportunity for chapter teams to discuss progress, share content, and coordinate efforts to minimize redundancy and enhance cohesion across the book
 - We are looking for some fun ideas for ice breakers
-

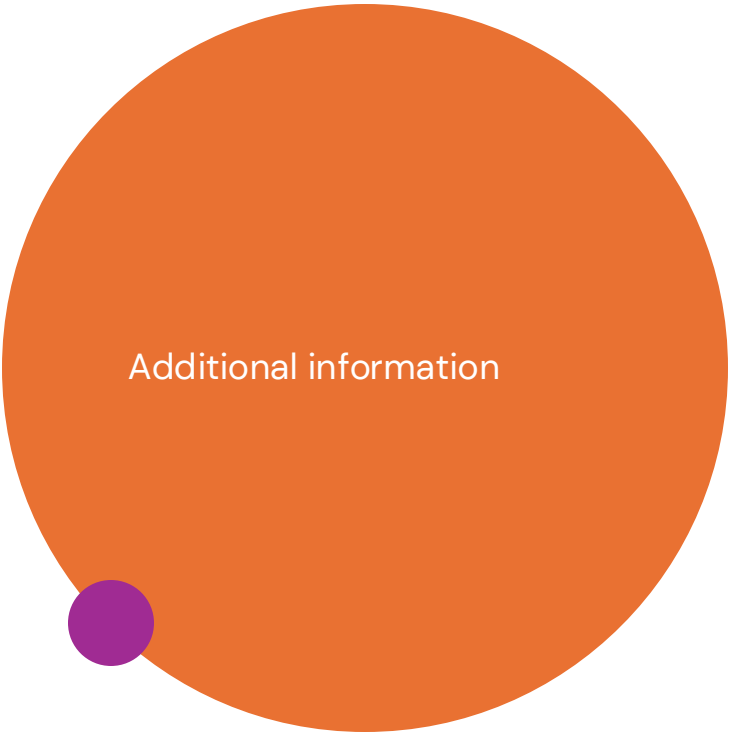

Important deadlines and timeline

First drafts are due June1, 2026

06

Writing Guidance and Style Considerations

Additional information

- Authors and sub editors will be receiving a message with additional author guidelines, details, timelines from Ms. Sharmila Mary Gnanasekar who is the book editor

Manuscript Guidelines | Publish your research | Springer Nature

-
- Elena Frank
 - Colin West
 - Hilary McClafferty
 - Amanda Sedgewick

Inspiration

07

Q&A and Open Discussion

08

Next Steps and Closing
Remarks

Summary of Action
Items

1. Chapter Outline due March 31, 2026
2. In-person Collaborative Meeting May 8, 2026
3. Be on the lookout for an email introduction between sub-editor and sub-chapter authors
4. Share any resources to be included on the web page to Vegunta.suneela@mayo.edu
 - Resources can include books, podcasts, etc.
5. First drafts are due June 1, 2026